

SEASPRITE REUNION

NATIONAL NAVAL AVIATION MUSEUM

NAS PENSACOLA, FLORIDA

October 24-26, 2018

Welcome Home to the Cradle of Naval Aviation

Fifty five years ago the Kaman Corporation completed and delivered the first of 240 Seasprites to the United States Navy. In 1973 the SH-2F Seasprite was selected to serve as the LAMPS MK 1 helicopter to deploy on U.S. Navy Destroyers, Frigates and Cruisers. After 20 years of LAMPS service the SH-2F was retired from the Navy inventory and replaced with the LAMPS MK III SH-60B. It was decided that in conjunction with the planned placing of Seasprite BuNo 151312 into the National Naval Aviation Museum we should have a reunion to celebrate and recognize the many men and women who served as Kaman Tech Reps, administration personnel, aircraft maintainers, aircrew and pilots. Please “Come Home” and join us for this occasion October 24-26, 2018 in Pensacola Florida.
