An Air Force F-4E was crossing the beach heading West near Dong Hoi when it was hit by AAA. The pilot made a 180° turn and ejected successfully over the water. A KITTY HAWK Angel, who had just completed a logistics run in the area, was vectored to the scene by the USS STERETT. The Helo crew successfully picked up both survivors approximately 13 miles off the coast of North Vietnam and safely brought them to the STERETT where they received medical attention.
